An introduction from our Chair

The State of Nature Report 2023 highlighted in stark detail how changes in the way we manage our land for agriculture together with climate change have impacted nature through biodiversity loss in the past half century across the United Kingdom. The forward-looking Welsh Government's Wellbeing of Future Generations Act (2015) has become a model for many countries wishing to recognise the value of nature and landscapes as benefits for people. A milestone within the Act aims 'to reverse the decline in biodiversity with an improvement in the status of species and ecosystems' by 2030.

All hands are needed to help reverse these trends; whether farmers and landholders building on good practice in sustainable farming, Eryri National Park and its mission to protect and enhance the qualities that make Eryri special, all public bodies, conservation organisations such as ourselves, and people – we all have a part to play, more so, than ever before.

It is with pride that we can look back to the vision of our founder Esme Kirby who established Cymdeithas Eryri in 1967. Several decades on our ability to campaign and advocate, and deliver practical conservation is more relevant than ever before. Our committed, knowledgeable and respected staff continue to make a difference through partners and volunteers. Our sought after trainee positions will contribute to the development of a green economy which has to be the future model for integrating the protection of nature and landscapes with the production of food and energy.

As the highlights of this report demonstrate, the year 2023/24 has been a very successful one across a variety of activities. Everyone who takes part not only makes an invaluable contribution but also, judging from the feedback we regularly receive, the act of participation brings personal benefits, too. In giving one receives, knowing you are part of a force for good.

However, as with every year our work is only made possible through the core support of our members along with the financial support of grant funders and vital donations, including through The Big Give, and the generous support of our volunteers whose time spent on an array of conservation activities is truly invaluable. To everyone, and on behalf of all trustees, I give my heartfelt thanks.

During the reporting year there have been a number of changes in the team. We said goodbye to John Harold who had successfully guided Cymdeithas Eryri for almost a decade, and welcomed Rory Francis as our new Director. Judith Bellis, Finance Officer also left and was replaced by Hazwani Ibrahim, as did Conservation Assistant Alf Bodenham. We welcome Peri Smith as Engagement Officer, and two conservation trainees, Molly Isherwood and Chelsea Boden.

We also bade farewell to several trustees: Jane Parry-Evans, Denis McAteer, Richard Neal and Richard Brunstrom, and welcome Rob Collister, Chloe Bailey and Chris Ball to the important role of providing overall strategic direction and governance for our charity.

Towards the end of the year, we started to think hard about how best we should direct our considerable knowledge and experience in future. The resulting strategy, 'A nature rich Eryri for All' looks to inspiring many more to support and take action for the protection and conservation of Eryri; to focus more specifically on defining the areas of nature recovery where we can best have an impact; to continue to use our independent voice to speak up for conservation, and challenge actions that can have adverse environmental consequences; and, finally, to strengthen our organisation to remain relevant and sustainable for many decades to come.

Fre Beamat

Sue Beaumont - Chair Cymdeithas Eryri Snowdonia Society

The trustees present their report with the financial statements of the charity for the year ended 31 March 2024. The trustees have adopted the provisions of Accounting and Reporting by Charities: Statement of Recommended Practice applicable to charities preparing their accounts in accordance with the Financial Reporting Standard applicable in the UK and Republic of Ireland (FRS 102) (effective 1 January 2019).

Our beneficiaries

As the only voluntary organisation existing solely to protect and enhance the beauty and special qualities of Eryri, our principal beneficiaries are all those who live, work and visit the area, not to mention the wildlife itself. In addition to that, of course, our work is of benefit to all those who choose to get involved in our activities: our members, supporters, volunteers, and those who attend our events. Finally, our work benefits the organisations with which we work as partners, such as National Trust and the Eryri National Park Authority, whose objectives very much synergise with our own.

Public benefit

The Trustees have paid due regard to the Charity Commission guidance on delivering public benefit in deciding what activities Cymdeithas Eryri Snowdonia Society should undertake in pursuit of our purpose and in exercising any powers or duties to which the guidance is relevant. The Trustees therefore consider that they are in compliance with the Charities Act 2011.

Volunteers

Cymdeithas Eryri Snowdonia Society receives substantial support from volunteers, in particular for Helping Hands and our practical conservation work, as well as from Trustees and ad hoc advisers, for example, on planning applications in the National Park. We are immensely grateful to all of them for their invaluable time, commitment and expertise. In line with SORP 2015 the contribution of volunteers has not been included in the Statement of Financial Activities, because this cannot be easily quantified in financial terms.

Highlights from 2023-24

Helping Hands

Making use of a grant funding secured through the Shared Prosperity Fund, we have been able to move our Caru Eryri work to a new level, working with more volunteers, organising more work days making a real difference within the National Park.

Carneddau Project

Our Caru Eryri work was funded by the Shared Prosperity Fund through Gwynedd Council. This work therefore had of necessity to be focussed within Gwynedd, but through the excellent Carneddau Project, we were able to undertake two major projects of work within Conwy.

First, we worked with local communities to support their efforts to clear invasive balsam in their local areas and have engaged with school children from Ysgol Llangelynnin and Ysgol Llanllechid. 18 people took part in accredited training for invasive species removal over the summer of 2023 while we organised 11 practical work days to support local communities with their clearance work.

Second, we organised 14 work days clearing vegetation from around archaeological monuments (with a few additional ones unfortunately cancelled due to poor weather). We have worked with groups from St Davids College, Coleg Llandrillo and Ysgol Tir Morfa as well as members of the public. The vegetation clearance days always prove popular with volunteers enjoying the added value of learning about archaeology.

Caru Eryri - Care for Snowdonia

Much of this work was carried out as part of the Caru Eryri project. This is a partnership between the Eryri National Park, the Outdoor Partnership, National Trust and Cymdeithas Eryri, which engages with the increasing number of visitors on how best to care for the environment and manage the impact of visitor activities through litter picking and maintenance of major footpaths.

This year we organised no less than 164 volunteer workdays and our volunteers put in a total of 5,620 hours of work. We were able to pick up, recycle or otherwise responsibly dispose of 1,500kg of litter. We undertook work to maintain 30km of footpaths. We were also able to invest in our volunteers, providing accredited training to 26 volunteers and, at the end of the year, taking on two full-time trainees, who are not just helping organise our conservation work but gaining valuable career experience in doing so.

St David Award

We were delighted at the end of the year when the Caru Eryri project was shortlisted for a prestigious St David Award. These awards are made annually to celebrate and recognise the extraordinary achievements of people in Wales including for bravery, innovation, culture, sport, community spirit as well as for being environment champions. Caru Eryri was one of three finalists in the environment category. And while we did not win, our Chair Sue Beaumont and three volunteers travelled to Cardiff to attend the event at which the First Minister Vaughan Gething gave out each award and congratulated the winners.

Our thanks to all our funding partners whose support has enabled us to enhance our impact:

Lines in the Landscape Project

During the year we organised a fantastic programme of events on the theme of Lines in the Landscape, thanks to the National Grid Community Grant Fund. Our members, volunteers and others who took part had a wonderful opportunity to engage with the landscapes of Eryri National Park in ways that are practical, educational, creative, and at times, just fun!

They had chance to try their hand at traditional skills that hold our landscapes together such as dry stone walling with Julian Thompson from the Pensychnant Conservation Centre, and hedge laying with Joseff from Llwyngwilym Farm, Dinas Mawddwy. They got to learn and practice these ancient skills which have been passed down for generations and hopefully will continue to be into the future.

They were inspired by fascinating guided walks, from the industrial history which has shaped Yr Wyddfa with Mountain Leader Keith Hulse, to tracing the map lines that surround us but that we can't see with Mike Raine.

National Trust Archaeologist Kathy Laws offered an insight into the human history of the Carneddau mountain range, and they discovered the secret world which surrounds us after dark in a Tŷ Hyll bat walk with Sam Dyer.

They explored their creative side with Guided by Nature, using traditional natural inks and techniques to create a booklet of personal meaning, and tried charcoal drawing with our very own Peri Smith. Learning willow weaving with the fantastic Eirian Muse from Helyg Lleu provided a wonderful insight into this beautiful skill.

Eryri is full of lines which enable us to understand and navigate the landscape, from footpaths and tracks to rivers and contours. It reveals storylines of man and nature if we know where to look. It has been wonderful to work with members of the public and community groups this year through the Lines in the Landscape project, to engage with and appreciate the National Park, and maybe add a small line to our own stories.

Tŷ Hyll

Tŷ Hyll continued to be leased out as a tea room 'The Honey Pot. The grounds, however, are maintained by the Society, in particular by volunteers aided by two regular gardeners. The aim is to allow the surrounding grounds to become wilder while allowing visitors to enjoy beautiful woodland walks, taking in the pond that has been created as a wildlife haven. We work with local bee-keepers to maintain a hive of honey bees which can gather pollen and nectar from this wonderful woodland habitat. During the year, we unfortunately needed to take down some of the trees, which had become dangerous as a result of ash die-back.

MaD Weekend

In September 2023 we once again organised a Make a Difference, or MaD weekend. A total of 52 people of all ages converged on Nant Gwynant for an activity-packed weekend of volunteering, including owl box building, a canoe litter pick, footpath maintenance, invasive species management and loads more! The weekend was a fantastic opportunity to spend time enjoying the special habitats and landscapes of Eryri while helping to look after them. Crucially, it allowed some of our enthusiastic members from further afield to take a full role in our conservation work.

Advocacy

Our advocacy work is led by our Advocacy Committee comprising the Director, two Trustees, Julian Pitt and Jane Barbrook and Mark Dakeyne, a member of the Society who is a retired planning professional.

We coordinate our advocacy work closely with the Alliance for Welsh Designated Landscapes and Campaign for National Parks. We are also an Associate Member of Wales Environment Link and a partner of Climate Cymru.

Along with the rest of the world, Eryri faces a nature and a climate crisis, with one species in six at risk of disappearing from the country. During the year we organised and supported a number of campaigns, and responded to a number of consultations, as the only voluntary organisation existing solely to protect and enhance the beauty and special qualities of Eryri in the interests or all who live, work and visit the area, both now and in the future.

Proposed Rhaeadr y Cwm hydro-electric scheme

In November we responded to a consultation on building a new hydro-electric scheme at Rhaeadr y Cwm waterfall in Cwm Cynfal, Ffestiniog. The Society had objected to very similar proposals on the same stretch of the river on three occasions over the previous thirty years, for reasons of both biodiversity and landscape. Each of these had been either withdrawn or refused. The latest proposal would see the river dammed and up to 70% of the water diverted though a pipe, thus bypassing the waterfall. The Society thus expressed great concern about this, also raising the issue in the National media. We expect a full application later this year.

Article 4 Directive

In March the Eryri National Park Authority followed Gwynedd Council in proposing to make an Article 4 Directive to regulate the conversion of local houses to short term lets and holiday accommodation. Concerned about the impact of the growth of the tourism industry on local communities and the availability of housing for local people, the Society supported this move.

The Sustainable Farming Scheme

We responded to The Welsh Government's consultation on the proposed Sustainable Farming Scheme (SFS) in March, strongly supporting the principle that Welsh farmers should be fairly paid for taking action to tackle the nature emergency, taking practical actions that will enhance biodiversity. In particular, we called for a Sustainable Farming in Designated Landscapes programme as a collaborative layer within the SFS, on the basis that Designated Landscapes should be hotspots of biodiversity, but that this is not always the case.

Not content with this, we worked with the Alliance of Welsh Designated Landscapes to create an e-action to enable our supporters to easily take part in the consultation themselves. Exactly 100 people did this, helping to demonstrate to the Welsh Government that many people care deeply about the future species like the curlew, the Welsh daffodil or the salmon and want the Welsh Government to support farmers in becoming part of the solution.

New pylons in the Park?

In March the National Grid published plans for a £60bn upgrading of the grid infrastructure across the UK. Worryingly, this included a new high tension connection between Bangor and Swansea, potentially passing through Eryri, Bannau Brycheiniog and the Cambrian Mountains. Things are at an early stage, there are no definite plans, but the Society has been in discussion with the National Grid, with the Eryri National Park Authority and also with other members of the Alliance of Welsh Designated Landscapes. We are hugely concerned with the prospect of new pylons through the Park and we will be doing everything we can to make sure that whatever option is eventually chosen does not include these.

Mobile phone masts

Mobile phone providers have been busy trying to improve mobile phone reception throughout Eryri, something which we welcome. Nevertheless we are deeply concerned about the impact new poles and lattice towers have on the landscape, particularly where these are in prominent positions on the tops of hills or on the skyline, and where they risk marring a stunning landscape. The Society voiced concerns about four such new masts over the year, one of which at Rhyd-yr-Eirin in the foothills of the Rhinogydd above Harlech, was subsequently refused. We are grateful to the National Park Authority for dealing with these applications with the sensitivity they deserve.

Financial Review

Financial position

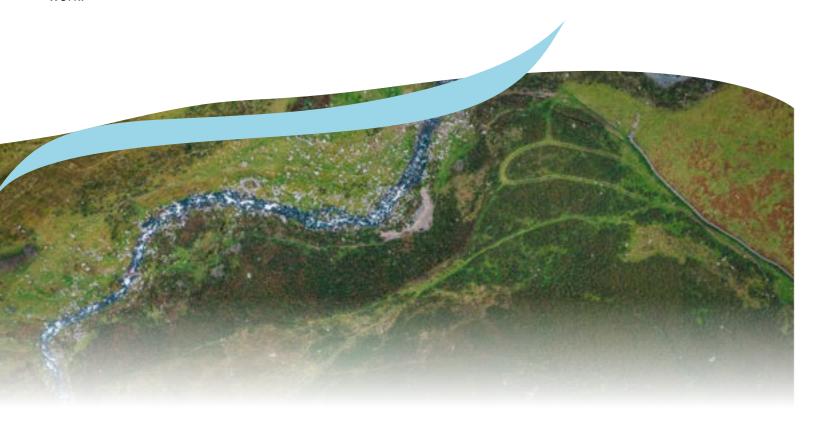

This was the second full year of alignment with the tax year from 1 April 2023 to 31 March 2024. Although the economic climate had eased somewhat as compared to the previous years; the situation has continued to be challenging with concerns around the impact of inflation, the rising cost of living and a potential change in government.

Income for the year was £280,884 with a surplus of £13,290 which included a profit on our Long-Term Reserves in our investment portfolio with Rathbones of £42,043. We received several new grants which enabled us to continue our practical conservation work. Despite this, managing cash flow remained a challenge as significant amounts of our grant income were claimed retrospectively.

Income from fundraising activities including donations and legacies and trading income from the sale of merchandise and seeds, remained stagnant as compared to the previous year (2024: £81,293, 2023: £81,820).

Trustees continued to monitor the budgetary situation during the year and to assess risks and how to manage them and made several decisions. The Trustees agreed to draw down a total of £50,000 from its Long-Term Reserves (LTR) to ensure the continuation of its conservation work and in anticipation of the receipt of our grant income.

We were grateful to receive grant funding from Postcode Community Trust, The National Lottery: Awards for All, New to Nature and Shared Prosperity Fund, and legacies worth £15,318, as well as donations, including those doubled by The Big Give, and the ongoing support of memberships. With an additional number of staff, we are optimistic that we have the resources in place which will enable us to continue our work.

Investment policy

The Society's Written Investment Policy (WIP), covering reserves, investment and risk management is available from the office on request. The objective of the Long-Term Reserves (LRT) investment portfolio is to produce a return balanced between income and capital growth, using a moderate level of risk, generating a return in excess of inflation over the long-term as a minimum. The Short-Term Reserves (STR) are held in current accounts which generate minimal interest, but which seek to preserve capital values.

The draw down of £50,000 from the Society's Long-Term Reserves noted above, fell within permitted limits specified in WIP, leaving sufficient working capital in the event of a systemic and catastrophic failure in funding.

Ethical Investment

The Society's policy on ethical investment is included in the Written Investment Policy, instructing Rathbones as investment portfolio manager to apply 'negative screening' to exclude investment in animal exploitation, human rights concerns, environmental management concerns, high carbon impacts, agrochemicals, mining and habitat exploitation. Trustees have informed Rathbones that they are keeping this policy under review given their preference for 'positive screening' whereby future investments are in companies with positive environmental and other ethical benefits. Rathbones continue to work to refine and improve the current policy.

Investments/Performance Report

snowdonia-society.org.uk

The total value of the investment portfolio with Rathbones as of 31 March 2024 was £419,944. Over the 12-month period, the portfolio total fell by 0.3% compared with an annual shortfall of 4.4% in 2022/23.

Reserves policy

The Society's policy is to hold sufficient Short -Term Reserves to meet normal expenditure over a 4-6 month period in readily accessible accounts. Other reserves (Long-Term Reserves) are invested on the Society's behalf by investment managers (Rathbones) to produce the best financial return within an acceptable level of risk and according to our instructions on ethical investment. The Charity needs Long-Term Reserves (LTR) in order that it can:

- meet the costs of new campaigns or other important opportunities that may arise;
- protect against unforeseen emergencies, variable income and unexpected necessary expenditure, in order to provide a stable basis for fulfilling the Society's objectives;
- provide working capital when funding is paid in arrears.

The Trustees consider having a sum equal to the total of one year's turnover over and above the STR to be suitable to enable the Charity to continue its activities. The trustees keep under review whether the minimum LTR is set at an appropriate level and also whether to set up any designated funds within the LTR, should this rise significantly above two years' turnover.

Future Plans

During the year the Society developed a Strategic Plan for the period for 2025-27, which very much maintains an emphasis on volunteering and practical action working with partners, hand in hand with pro-active advocacy work. It does, however, put a greater emphasis on actions needed to tackle the nature crisis, and also on trying to work more pro-actively, empowering communities to take action themselves and focusing more on outcomes rather than outputs.

Structure, Governance and Management

Governing document

The charity is controlled by its governing document, a deed of trust and constitutes an unincorporated charity.

Cymdeithas Eryri The Snowdonia Society was formed and first registered as a charity in 1967. In January 2014 it re-registered with the Charity Commission (registered no. 1155401) as a Charitable Incorporated Organisation (CIO). The Society's governing document is its constitution, which is available on its website.

Board of Trustees

Accountability and the overall strategic direction of the Society lies with the Trustees and all must be members of the Society, and not receive any remuneration for the role. We can have up to twelve Trustees. The Trustees meet quarterly, and currently a Finance and Governance Committee meets prior to each Board, and an Advocacy Group meets when required. Trustees undertook a strategic review during 2023-24, producing a new Strategic Plan

Appointment of Trustees

A panel of at least two Trustees, including the Chair, was formed to establish the recruitment criteria and interview process for new Trustees, taking into consideration the need for greater diversity and appropriate skills. As a result of this process, three new Trustees were proposed and duly elected at the 2023 AGM.

Management and staffing

Day-to-day management is delegated to the Director of the Society who reports regularly to the Chair, other committees and the Board. The Director and staff team work to deliver the priorities set out in the annual action plan, and Director reports to each quarterly Board on performance against the budget and impact. As responsible employers, the Trustees have approved policies relating to equalities and diversity, health and safety and others relevant to the work of the Society, which are reviewed and updated in line with changes to legislation and best practice.

Risk management

The primary risk to the long-term financial stability of the Society, under normal circumstances, has been identified in recent years as the effect of inflation on the financial reserves. The investments are managed with the object of minimizing this risk. The trustees have committed to compiling a Risk Register, reviewing the key current financial risks within a wider risk context.

The law applicable to charities in England and Wales, Charities Act 2011, Charity (Accounts and Reports) Regulations 2008 and the provisions of the trust deed requires Trustees to prepare financial statements for each financial year which give a true and fair view of the state of affairs of the charity and of the incoming resources and application of resources, including income and expenditure, of the charity for that period. In preparing those financial statements, the Trustees are required to:

- Select suitable accounting policies and then apply them consistently
- Observe the methods and principles in the Charity SORP
- Make judgements and estimates that are reasonable and prudent
- Prepare the financial statements on the going concern basis unless it is inappropriate to presume that the charity will continue in business

The Trustees are responsible for keeping proper accounting records which disclose with reasonable accuracy at any time the financial position of the charity and to enable them to ensure that the financial statements comply with the Charities Act 2011, the Charity (Accounts and Reports) Regulations 2008 and the provisions of the trust deed. They are also responsible for safeguarding the assets of the charity and hence for taking reasonable steps for the detection of fraud and other irregularities.

Notes to the Accounts

1 Accounting policies

Basis of preparing the financial statements

The financial statements of the charity, which is a public benefit entity under FRS 102, have been prepared in accordance with the Charities SORP (FRS 102) 'Accounting and Reporting by Charities: Statement of Recommended Practice applicable to charities preparing their accounts in accordance with the Financial Reporting Standard applicable in the UK and Republic of Ireland (FRS 102) (effective 1 January 2019)', Financial Reporting Standard 102 'The Financial Reporting Standard applicable in the UK and Republic of Ireland' and the Charities Act 2011. The financial statements have been prepared under the historical cost convention, with the exception of investments which are included at market value, as modified by the revaluation of certain assets.

Income

Income from grants including capital grants, is recognised once the charity has entitlement to the income, it is probable that the income will be received and the amount of income receivable can be measure reliably except for:

When it is specified that income from grants and contracts received by the charitable company are to be used in future periods, then the income is deferred till that period.

When conditions are imposed which have to be fulfilled before the charitable company becomes entitled to use such income, the income is deferred and not included in incoming resources until the pre-conditions for use have been met.

When specified, income including capital grants, is for a particular restricted purpose, which does not amount to pre conditions regarding entitlement, this income is included in incoming resources of restricted funds when receivable.

Expenditure

Liabilities are recognised as expenditure as soon as there is a legal or constructive obligation committing the charity to that expenditure, it is probable that a transfer of economic benefits will be required in settlement and the amount of the obligation can be measured reliably. Expenditure is accounted for on an accruals basis and has been classified under headings that aggregate all cost related to the category. Where costs cannot be directly attributed to particular headings they have been allocated to activities on a basis consistent with the use of resources.

Allocation and apportionment of costs

Certain expenditure is directly attributable to specific activities and has been included in those cost categories.
